

Customer interaction with our food ordering system, allows the customer create a order to a specific restaurant for specific menu items. The customer can submit the order and it will go directly to the restaurant

System Admin has access to manage the users and the restaurants that are available through the system. For both users and restaurants have options to edit/delete/add for the specific aspects.

Restaurant owner has access to manage the orders placed and the menu items of the restaurant that are available through the system. For both orders placed and menu items have options to edit/delete/add for the specific aspects.

